

Families of the missing persons in Africa live in extreme poor conditions as a result of poverty

IFFAMPAC Africa fieldwork assignment establishes that hundreds of families of missing persons are living in abject poverty; they lack social needs and proper housing. Most families revealed that they only manage to eat once in day; and they can not afford three meals in day, as result of lack of income. Their future is always uncertain, and they hope that organizations like IFFAMPAC and other stakeholders should strive to empower them through economic activity ventures, such as basic skills training. African families of the missing have no access to clean running water, health services and education for their children. Therefore, this situation has made daily life of these families a HORROR. One family described poverty which they go through as painful and inhuman.

ALARMING POVERTY LEVELS AMONG FAMILIES OF THE MISSING PERSONS IN AFRICA

On 10th July, 2009 IFFAMPAC Africa office through African representative & volunteers undertook field study of the families of the missing persons from armed conflicts in Africa. The field work assignment has been an ongoing undertaking and it targets families of the missing who reside in communities commonly known as shanty compounds.

Your donations of funds or services will help us to act as an advocate for family associations. In addition, it will enable IFFAMPAC to implement projects that directly benefit the missing and their families. Donations are US tax deductible. IFFAMPAC is a 501(c)(3) organization.

“POVERTY INDEED ROBS THE PRIDE OF HUMAN DIGNITY”

Women preparing flitters for sale as a source of their income to survive

Due to high levels of poverty, women become vulnerable and their children engage in early marriages as a way of supporting their families. Poverty among the families of the missing has destroyed the fiber root of stable families, as most families have given up hope for a better life.

The unplanned population among the families of the missing is growing rapidly, thereby causing social commotion and more poverty.

IFFAMPAC’s role in addressing poverty has been centered on encouraging families of the missing persons to join the newly formed family associations, in order for them to attain a unified voice and be able to lobby for their social rights. This is the key for their future once they realize they need to join hands.

Poverty among the families of the missing cannot be resolved through food donations as it is not sustainable. Families need to undergo massive training in basic skills and empowering them through micro-financing programs, which would give them impetus to stand on their own and support their families.

In one community we found a group of families of missing persons at a Bar (Beer Hall) busy drinking local beers. When asked why they spend much of their time drinking, they responded by saying that when they drink, they forget about problems and as such it keeps them going in terms of life.

The poverty situation among families of the missing from armed conflicts could be described as catastrophic, because it keeps on robbing the fundamental values of a family. One woman said that poverty has robbed them of the PRIDE OF HUMAN DIGNITY.

Indeed the life of families of the missing is on the knife edge bridge, they feel demoted and depressed by the situation.

IFFAMPAC is determined to contribute to the process of making families of the missing being heard, and above all helping them to reclaim their social rights as enshrined in the universal Declaration of Human Rights.

We do believe as IFFAMPAC that whatever we do to help families of the missing, we propel Africa's emerging society of hope for social development. And our desire is African family transformation from Poverty to prosperity.

WHY SUPPORT, DONATE and FUND IFFAMPAC WORKS IN AFRICA?

In Africa, IFFAMPAC has begun to get an accurate accounting of the surviving families and their missing family members. Our approach gives us unique understanding of the overall problems that families face, and will enable IFFAMPAC to represent them effectively at forums such as the United Nations and international conferences with governments, agencies, and other NGOs. The planned project for building schools, skills and recreation centers for these families is a cornerstone for the fulfillment of fundamental human rights for a basic unit of society, which is the family.

IFFAMPAC welcomes donors to become part of the project implementation team. Our organization cannot work in isolation. As a team we can realize success. We welcome volunteers, and other organizations to affiliate with us. We also welcome in-kind donations.
